Around the County in Seven Days.

The Happenings of the Past Week Told in Detail by Efficient Correspondents.

FROM:

Peoa, Utah, Aug. 16, 1900.

Editor Times:

The High Priest's quorum will hold their quarterly meeting in East Coalville on Saturday, Aug. 25th, 1900.

Miss Lena McKnight of Salt Lake City is spending her vacation in Peoa. The young lady is the guest of F. W. Marchant.

Gilbert J. Marchant and family and Robert Allen, Jr., and family left here yesterday afternoon for the Big Horn, Wyoming. It will take them three weeks or more to reach their destination. The evening before their departure there was a family gathering at the residence of Mrs. Maria Lyons in their honor, and the residence was crowded with the relatives of those who have departed for their new home, and who did so to show them the high esteem and love in which they were held by one and all. The evening was spent in singing, reciting, music and social conversation. During the evening a substantial lunch was served. The removal from here of Mr. Marchant and Mr. Allen and families will leave a vacuum that will not soon be filled, and they will be remembered for their kind and kindly hearts. May peace, prosperity and success attend them.

B. H. K. View.

"My baby was terrible sick with diarrhoea," says J. H. Cook, of Williams, Oregon. "We were unable to cure him with the doctors' medicines," and as a last resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I am happy to say it gave immediate relief and a complete cure." For sale by John Boyden & Son.

ROCKPORT.

Rockport, Utah, Aug. 16, 1900.

Editor Times:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neumann spent last week in Salt Lake City.

The Misses Eva, May, Vera and Elsie Peterson came out from Salt Lake Monday. They will spend a few weeks in the country.

A farewell party was given in the Rockport Hall Monday evening, August 6th, in honor of David Seamount. He left Tuesday morning for Salt Lake City, where he remained until Saturday when he left for England to fill a mission.

Thomas Gibbons has returned from the Klondike after a sojourn in that country for the past year and a half. He spent the greater part of his time in Dawson City, which place he liked very well; but the latter part of his stay in the north was spent at Cape Nome. This country, according to his statement, is a fraud. He says the people are all anxious to leave Nome and many resort to foul means to get money to take them away. Those who have money have to keep a guard day and night, or some wretch will kill the man, take his money and leave. Although Tom has had to endure many hardships, yet he looks none the worse for his trip, and he says the experience which he has gained is of inestimable worth to him. His many friends are all glad to welcome him home again.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the trustees of school district No. 8, from Saturday, August 11th to Monday, August 27th, for the erection of a frame school house in South Park. Plans and specifications can be seen at T. L. Allen's. The trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

HARRISON.

Harrison, Utah, Aug. 16, 1900.

Editor Times:

Mrs. Lovina E. Brewer is visiting in Ainslie, Idaho.

George Roberts was doing business in Ogden this week.

Thomas Gies of Salt Lake City is visiting in Harrison this week. The guest of M. E. Harris.

Everybody is busy with the harvest. Threshing could all be done by October conference this year.

Ice formed on standing water this morning, and everything looks like the latter part of September.

During the week Mrs. Davis presented her husband with a fine daughter. The lady has been quite sick, but is now on the improve.

Alma Richline will start east the latter part of the week with a bunch of mules for the eastern market. Several more contemplate doing the same thing from this place.

A fine fat cow belonging to W. H. Bartholomew was found dead in the canyon a day or two ago with no apparent cause for her death. This will be quite a loss to the owner as his crop this year is a failure.

W. H. Branch, E. H. Rhead and W. H. Carruth, all of Coalville, were the speakers at the afternoon service on Sunday last. After the meeting two religious classes were organized of which I will say more later on.

That Throbbing Headache.

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by John Boyden & Son, Druggists.

Lawn Party.

A most delightful lawn party was given by Mesdames W. L. Hansen and M. E. Gies on Friday afternoon, Aug. 2nd. The spacious lawn was beautifully decorated with bunting. In a lovely shady nook a booth was arranged with the national colors, where, during the afternoon, punch was served from a handsome hand painted punch bowl. Tables were scattered over the lawn for cards, and what was the game played. Beautiful double red holly hocks were used for tables; each winner had her head adorned with one of the gorgeous blossoms. After seven games had been played, Mrs. W. G. Fisher was the happy possessor of seven flowers and received a handsome hand painted toilet bottle. Mrs. George Edgington having only one blossom, was presented with a bottle of perfume carefully packed in twelve different boxes. The unwrapping of the perfume caused much merriment.

A large table was set on one end of the lawn exquisitely arranged with cut glass and china and was adorned with masses of sweet peas and marguerites. The refreshments were delicious and consisted of a great variety of delicacies.

The party was a success in every way, and the hostesses charming. The beautiful lawn, the pretty dresses of the ladies, the bright blossoms in their hair, the table so daintily laid, made a fitting picture for a kodak—but no kodak was there.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, head aches, backache, fainting and dizziness. It is a godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Cure guaranteed. Only 50c. Sold by John Boyden & Son, druggists.

Lord Mayor of Weber.

(WRITTEN BY HONORABLE.)

Behold, I am Lord and Master here, Orie— the financier, To all Weber valley I command, Obey my laws or you'll be damned.

For I smite unto you, and it must come to pass, That I control the water that governs the grass.

No matter what thy creed may be, I am Lord and Master, so look unto me. A fool is a fool,

And a wise man wise, But the fool is the tool Of the wise man's lies.

No I smite unto thee, my wire friends all, Obey my laws tho' bitter as gall.

It may seem to thee I've no right to command, But, behold, I am the King o'er Sumner's great land.

While serving a mission in a southern land, I found sinners quite scarce and in great demand;

But yams about a misquoted state, Where winds never blow early or late, Brought me results, that for months I had planned.

And caught me a sucker, for the promised land; But he went back on his lord and master, Because I tried to squeeze him with a porous plaster.

He came with his family, which were four (that's plenty); Except one all wise son, whose age was twenty.

He would not leave his southern clime, To freeze to death in the summer time, 'Til not abide by the laws of the land, As long as a bluff will make a good stand.

For my life has been righteous, in this great land of Zion, That is, to the extent of an African lion, I will not impose on a man that's too big.

Not will I trespass on another man's land, I won't stand away peace, joy nor hope, But just pick it up and take a good mope.

And leave him to rue, 'twixt cactus and thorns, Until his hands are all bunions and his feet are all corns.

My ten commandments, both noble and true, Is the only religion I ever knew;

So work ye all to gain my stand, And you'll slide right over in the promised land.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

1. Thou shalt not carry away thy neighbor's goods that are too large for thee to meekle.

2. Thou shalt not covet any other man's water, unless ye can bluff him into abiding by it.

3. Though shalt not covet thy neighbor's cow, pig, horse, or other animals, unless thou art stronger, both physically and mentally.

4. Thou shalt not tell lies on thy neighbor only for greed or gain, unless to make him think that thou art braver.

5. Thou shalt not show thy paganism qualities to thy neighbor only with thy tongue; if otherwise, only to intimidate and demoralize the community.

6. Thou shalt not turn water for irrigating purposes from thy neighbor's dam, unless ye can talk water and injunction.

7. Thou must not incur favor upon thy friend and neighbor, unless ye deem it a case of sour grapes.

8. Thou shalt not sing such songs as, "Brother you are called to leave us, in distant lands to roam," except for the express purpose of rousing sinners.

9. Thou shalt not undertake to convert a sinner, unless thy conscience leads thee to believe that windmills, squirrels, grasshoppers, misquinoses, thistles, thorns and other pests have never been produced in Utah's sunny land.

10. Thou shalt not disinter these ten commandments, unless ye expect to be d—d forever and eternally.

I'm a man with great brain and other distinction, If no one comes with a good contrab-
